

THE "AMERICA" READY TO WING WAY TO PARIS

Plane Perched On Runway
Ready To Take Off At Moment's Notice

WEATHER INTERFERES

Byrd And Three Companions
Now Anxious To Start
For Europe

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., June 24.—Perched proudly on an incline leading to a land runway here today is the giant monoplane "America" ready to wing its way towards Paris at a moment's notice.

It was to have flown at dawn this morning, but at the eleventh hour, after final preparations had been made, the hop-off was postponed indefinitely because a storm suddenly burst over the coast of Newfoundland.

Captain Richard D. Byrd and the three men who will make the flight with him were deeply disappointed, and so were several thousand persons who had swamped over Roosevelt Field eager to witness the start of the epochal expedition.

"I thought sure we were going this time," said Byrd, who is fretting over the repeated delays. "I hope it won't be long before we do go. And we'll go the moment the weather man gives us the word that conditions are right."

But the weather man who is advising Byrd does not think the "America" can take off today. He is James H. Kimball, United States Weather Bureau meteorologist. It was Kimball's report shortly after midnight that prompted Byrd to delay the hop-off.

"They certainly will not be able to go today, and Saturday is too far away to make a prediction," was the pessimistic comment of Kimball.

As last minute preparations for the take-off were being made, amid great excitement at the flying field, Kimball telephoned the following report to Byrd:

"There is a low barometer in the St. Lawrence Valley and it left a trough behind it and went out to sea over the East Coast. It extended along the coast line from Nantucket to Nova Scotia and up to Newfoundland and Labrador. The northeast of the trough is moving slowly. The southeast is moving rapidly."

Huge Fire Wipes Out Big Pa. Business Center

MONONGAHELA, Pa., June 24 (I.N.S.)—Fire of undetermined origin following an explosion in the Monongahela business district at 4 o'clock this morning destroyed four buildings doing approximately $100,000 damages.

Two persons were known to have been injured. They were Joseph Russo and his wife, Mary, proprietors of the Venice Restaurant and owners of the Venice Building where the explosion occurred.

The blaze spread from the Venice Building to the Sete structure on one side where it gutted two stores and a barber shop on the ground floor and burned out two floors of apartments above.

In the rear of the building, a bakery was demolished. The loss there was said to have been heavy.

On the other side of the Venice Building, the Christina edifice, owned by Louis Christina, was laid in ruins. Firemen said the brick walls of the structure prevented the blaze from spreading to other business places.

Mr. and Mrs. Russo were taken to the Monongahela Memorial Hospital suffering from lacerations and bruises suffered when struck by falling timbers.

Mrs. Russo had been caught in her room by the falling timbers. Russo attempted to rescue her and was injured.

At the hospital, Russo charged that enemies had caused the explosion that started the fire. A request has been made of the State Fire Marshal to send an investigator to look into the charge.

CLAIMS RECORD FOR ATTENDING SCHOOL

Clearfield Student Never Once
Absent During Fourteen
Years

OTHER STATE NEWS

CLEARFIELD, Pa., June 24 (I.N.S.)—Clearfield presents its own claimant to the school attendance record of Pennsylvania in the person of Raymond Hughes, who was graduated recently from the Clearfield High School.

School authorities go further, and claim for Hughes a national championship. The youth attended public schools for fourteen years without a single absence from classes, and without a single tardiness being marked up against him.

The youth's feat is more remarkable, his friends point out, in that his family moved to three communities during his first years in school.

Further laurels are heaped on the boy's head when it is revealed he was one of the best known high school football players in this district, considered one of the finest ends who ever donned a Clearfield uniform.

Hughes' record tops by one year those held by members of the Showalter family of Huntingdon, Pa.

PITTSBURGH, June 24 (I.N.S.)—Every time the clock ticks out one hour and twenty minutes, a coal or metal miner in America has met his death in a mine roof cave-in, according to the U. S. Bureau of Mines office here.

The fact that more than 1200 coal and metal miners are killed each year presents one of the gravest problems in the industry.

The magnitude of the question was recognized by Congress when it voluntarily appropriated funds for a special investigation by the United States Bureau of Mines into the underlying causes of these accidents and possible remedial measures.

It has been found, according to the local bureau, that the majority of accidents from falls occur where the roof is not artificially supported by timber or other means; that the placing of timber is governed by regulations which call for placing roof supports systematically; but in most cases the timber is placed where, in the judgment of the foreman, there appears to be the immediate danger. Judgment of miners or foremen is governed by tapping the roof with picks, drills and bars.

A large proportion of accidents are due to failure of the individual miner to exercise full precautions necessary for his protection. Thus the bureau of mines is opening an educational campaign to instruct the miners as to the best methods of protecting both themselves and the property of their employers.

LEWISTOWN, Pa., June 24 (I.N.S.)—Pennsylvania pedestrians, here's a suggestion for your safety, advanced by Robert North, 22, of Atlanta, Ga., who is serving nine months in jail because he tried out his own idea.

North was arrested for breaking into a Pennsylvania Railroad tool house and carrying off a yellow lantern. He told the court he found it dangerous to walk along the highways at night without a light.

North was found two days after the alleged theft, still carrying his safety light.

Morrisville Tax Rate Is Increased Two Mills

MORRISVILLE, June 24.—Council set the borough tax rate for Morrisville at 19 mills for the ensuing year. This is an increase of 2 mills, which will be used for street improvements and better lighting for the borough.

Because of the general uprising of its citizens, Morrisville Common Council has voted down an ordinance granting permission to the Pennsylvania and New Jersey Railway Company, a trolley corporation, permission to extend its lines and operate freight trains over the same. The company stated it wanted to get ready for a big industrial development in Morrisville, but State Senator Clarence J. Buckman, who appeared before Council opposing the measure, stated that when there is an industrial development the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will build sidings and take care of the freight.

Councilman Neal Nolan, representing the Second Ward in Common Council, was elected tax collector for Morrisville Borough by Council to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Russell M. Moss.

700 BOYS WITNESS BASEBALL GAME AS GUESTS OF MEN HERE

Over 50 Sedans and 6 Trucks
Required To Carry
Crowd

SEE "A'S" WIN GAME

Kiddies Enjoyed The Day
To Its Fullest
Extent

Men of Bristol yesterday were hosts to at least 700 boys at the ball game between the Athletics and Washington, which was played at Shibe Park. The boys were transported from Bristol to the ball field in over 50 automobiles and six big trucks. A number of attendants were taken along to assist in keeping the boys in order at the field and safeguarding them.

The crowd assembled on Otter street in front of the Ford Service Station. The committee was headed by Thomas Collier, as chairman.

On the return home Morris Rubin, Mill street, owner and driver of his truck with 23 boys aboard, got separated from the crowd and was arrested for not having a license. Rubin lost his license at the game. Word was telephoned to Bristol and Mr. Collier went to Philadelphia at once with a licensed driver and through Chief McGuckin got into communication with the Philadelphia police and Rubin was released. This truck with its load of boys got back to Bristol at about nine o'clock.

Five hundred tickets were distributed but when it was found that there would be plenty of transportation available every boy who could be corralled and a number of adult men to assist as attendants were taken along.

Weather was ideal and in the opinion of regular attendants at the "A's" field the games was one of the best seen this year at the park.

"Al" Simmons' home run delighted the kiddies. The children all kept in good order at the game and occupied two full sections in the right field grand stand. They devoured plenty of peanuts, ice cream cones and lemonade.

Before the game the two famous Washington comedians, "Nick" Altrock and "Al" Shacht put on some excellent comedy such to the amusement of the Bristol delegation.

Among the stunts the boys enjoyed most were the slow motion "prize fight" and the burlesque tennis match. The sedans of Burgess Anderson and Dr. Fox were loaded to capacity, carrying almost 15 boys each. The other cars were filled in proportion.

The trucks of William H. Grundy Co., Rohm & Haas, Amison Pottery and Harkins Foundry Company carried about 50 boys or more each.

Among the men acting as guards were John Fields and William K. Fine. Those of J. Harper, I. J. Hetherington, Sam Jones, Charles Hellyer, A. Fine, James McGinley, William Gallagher, Ralph Bruden, James Fine.

EUROPE'S BOGEY

From this side of "Lindy's lagoon" it seems European powers are unnecessarily exercised over affairs in Russia and communistic propaganda with which the Russian Soviet government is said to be flooding neighboring countries in Europe and Asia.

The official manifestoes and utterances of statesmen to the effect that this propaganda may incite the people of their countries to revolution is an insult to the intelligence of those people. Certainly, the French, British and Germans would not confess that they could be swayed by the shallow arguments and hollow oratory of a group of men who have placed Russia under a despotic rule more tyrannical and cruel than the government of the czars. And yet their public officials infer that very thing.

If governments in Europe or Asia are overthrown by "red revolution" or by more orderly means, it will not be because of soviet influence. Nations do not change their systems of government because some other nation asks them to. Misrule, class discrimination and widespread poverty did more to overthrow the absolute monarchy of the czars than propaganda and guns of the bolsheviks.

A. Mitchell Palmer and his gang of Red chasers succeeded in arousing only a ripple of alarm in this country during the post-war unemployment period when conditions were most opportune, but the American people might have a worse case of nerves if they had gone through the nerve-racking experiences known to modern Europe. In their present panicky state of mind Europeans are apt to make mountains of mole hills and revolutions out of soap-box orations.

RECORDING HISTORY

For a year or so many have been viewing with alarm what they think to be a tendency to neglect and depreciate the importance of modern history. In their opinion the greatest needs of the day are another Pepys and Gibson or Plutarch, and they hope to create them by foundations, scholarships and prizes.

It seems these serious-minded people are unnecessarily perturbed over the present and future of history. They see history being made daily and, because it is not being recorded in the traditional way, assume it isn't being recorded at all.

The fact is that this generation has revolutionized the manner of writing history just as it has revolutionized so many other things. The story of every great event and social transition of modern times is being preserved for posterity just as faithfully and even more graphically than were ancient and medieval history preserved for this age.

Archaeologists a thousand or ten thousand years hence, digging around in the remains of American civilization of the twentieth century, will uncover buttons, medals, newspapers, souvenirs, sweaters, sheet music and phonograph records bearing inscriptions and pictures telling about the conquest of the Atlantic ocean by air by the explorer Colonel Lindbergh in the year 1927.

Sheet music and phonograph records have also perpetuated for the far future the tragic story of Floyd Collins' death in a Kentucky cave, the spirit of the jazz age, Gertrude Ederle's and George Young's historic swims.

As I see it—

Observations About Events, Persons and Things Which Are of General Interest. : : :

These few paragraphs are devoted to the thriftiness of the woman in the home in these times of high prices.

The real home-maker of Bristol must needs be familiar with several trades as it were. Fortunately is the family which has for the wife and mother one who is gifted with the power of homemaking.

To her is given the task of making the hours of leisure spent in the house by the family, those of pleasure. She must be gifted along the culinary line. It is her duty to provide foods of certain varieties, containing correct amount of calories, and the food must be tasty and attractive; and the menu varied.

Upholstery is another trade she must have some idea of. Slip covers for upholstered suites, pillow covers, draperies, etc., are needed, and many pennies are saved through her ability.

Embroidery and fancy work of many kinds come easy to her nimble fingers, and she is ever ready to attempt something new.

The useful articles along the notion line needed in a well-equipped home are often products of her needle. Then she must be versed in the art of a seamstress, for the many pieces of clothing she makes assist in making the budget go further.

She even covers frames for lamp shades, arranging the designs, attaching fringe or beads, places tassels cords to the lights; manufactures wall pockets to contain spring and summer blossoms, and then considers other new novelties or necessities.

Pieces of furniture often need refurbishing and repainting, and she learns to stencil in order to lend a charming touch to some of the pieces.

And all this beside the oft-times tiresome routine of housecleaning, laundering and mending.

Truly Bristol and all other towns and cities owe much to the women in their midst, as they help to make their home-towns better places in which to live.
